

As a faithful supporter for the past two years and listener to KLOVE for three years, I would be more than a little upset to lose having the option of listening to KLOVE on the radio. I stopped listening to secular music for several reasons: 1) musical content (sex and violence); 2) lyrics (bad language); 3) help me focus on something else besides the traffic I fight every day; and 4) focus of other stations even so called "Family-oriented" stations on "ME"/what I have rather than on others and what I can give. I am having a difficult time understanding why others (who don't want to be responsible for their actions and moral conduct) can tell me what I can listen to as long as it has no hint of morals or God in the content. KLOVE is for those individuals who want to hear and spread the Good News of God have an avenue to express it currently. As far as I'm concerned the reason this country has gone to the dogs is the fact that we have turned away from God and his teachings including taking the option to express and pray in PUBLIC places other than church.
